Capel path and across moor to reach Sandy Hillock path at about G.R. 278815. Thence via Sandy Hillock huts and track to Broad Cairn, Cairn Bannoch, Fafernie, Crow Craigies, Jock's Road and return to car-park.
One man returned. Reported one male member of party left on moor between Capel path and Sandy Hillock track. Was tired. Would rest and return to car via Capel path. Has not returned.
Two members of party left at the foot of a 'small crag' somewhere between Faferine and Bouroch. Party lost track in cloud. Female slipped and fell down crag. Unable to walk. Extent of injuries uncertain. One male remained with girl. Male who returned reported ascending 'steep ground' before locating path on a ridge and following same to Bouroch and on to car-park.

Weekend Selkirk 2-3 November 1991
Attending:	Kirkpatrick, Stewart, Dave Taylor, Nicholson, Gingell, Cole, White, Walker, Carr, and Kev Taylor
Friday:	Snow, wind and Gales
The troops were deployed in a navigation exercise above Selkirk, that involved the placement and location of certain markers. All troops were bedded down by 0430 am to end the night
Saturday:	Snow, wind and Gales
In the morning all personnel walked off and after a few hours real sleep watched the Rugby Cup Final. Followed by a cold night in Selkirk where it seemed all the pubs where full of people celebrating England's loss

The Reunion this year was held in the Highlander Hotel a 4* joint in Aviemore. On the good side the service and the bar being open till 07.30 was appreciated. The quality of the food and the layout of the areas didn't help the reunion to reach the standard achieve at the Kingshouse
However, the ladies and the majority had a great time
Snag in the morning, those in the Bothy had to leave their sleeping bags to empty one half of the Bothy for a Clothing Sale – That's life
The rest walked around for the remainder of the day slowly sobering up
Shell Seminar:	Good exercise, things being learnt and people met
